Continental Championship Wrestling is proud to announce that Michael Summers is stepping down as CCW's Director of Talent Aquisitions to focus his energies on the anticipated launch of our Media Division.

The CCW Media Division will be mainly responsible for CCW's broadcast and internet streaming ventures. This will include podcasts of our matches and promos, as well as the upcoming launch of our Television broadcasts, CCW's Boiling Point.

At this time, Summers' former duties will be absorbed between CCW General Manager Joey Sanders, and the rest of the CCW talent evaluation committee. No new director is expected to be announced in the near future.

CCW is still evaluating talent and encourages talent from all over the Pacific Northwest to go to our Join CCW page at www.ccwinteractive.com and fill out the form to let us know about you. We will be announcing our first show as soon as we get final clearance from the OR Wrestling Commission, so please keep checking for updates.
